Beyond doubt ... the solution to your problems

How long does it take to infiltrate our systems?

What are the potential threats and their impact intensity on our IT systems?

How can we ensure that our security requirements are in alignment with our IT security measures?

Is it possible to measure the information security?

Does our company comply with existing laws and regulations?

How do we convincingly demonstrate our IT security level to our customers and partners?

Information protection

Ensure the privacy, integrity and availability of your data and that of your customers, colleagues, partners and suppliers.

Security audit and certification

Use your achievements to boost customer confidence in a transparent way, as your company grows.

Data protection & IT compliance

Avoid legal sanctions and image loss by staying up-to-date with current regulations.

IT security governance

Make sure your IT meets the security-related business requirements by establishing verifiable controlling and measurement processes.

IT risk management

Be aware of your vulnerabilities and make the right decisions in dealing with your risks.

IT security

Establish the optimal security level for any budget, customized to your actual needs.

Beyond doubt ... a reliable partner

Information security check and roadmap

Information security check and roadmap is our moderated approach to holistic customer self-assessment on Information security and is based on 20 overlapping set of issues that fully cover the areas of information security and compliance.

Module 1: Information security check

After attending two four-hour workshops, which cover such key factors as people, organization, technology and relationships, you will also be able to determine which of them requires additional attention.

Module 2: Information security roadmap

Our approach proves itself not just effective, but also highly efficient, since it allows us to conduct a deeper analysis. As a result of the four-hour workshop, you will obtain clear and prioritized recommendations for your strategy.

Boxing star Muhammad Ali took a seat in the first class of an airliner. A few minutes before takeoff, the stewardess asked him to fasten his seatbelt. "Superman does not need a seat belt," Ali replied. The stewardess hesitated for a moment. Then she replied, "Superman does not need a plane either." The boxer had to laugh and fastened his seat belt.
